2. Notes

1. The self-pickup price of the product supports reservation, but the grouping inventory only supports self-pickup orders. Reservation for non-self-pickup product prices does not support self-pickup orders for the time being. The platform is stepping up service optimization and will support reservation inventory sharing in the future;

2. Self-pickup orders currently support manual orders, API orders, and batch orders, but do not support platform sync orders. The platform is stepping up service optimization and will support all ordering methods in the future;

3. For self-pickup orders, please be sure to filter the price with the logistics method of "Self-Pickup" to place an order to avoid abnormal delivery due to incorrect logistics methods;

4. The number of label files uploaded must be submitted strictly according to the "number of shipped packages" marked on the product details page to avoid some packages being unable to be shipped due to insufficient label files;

5. When submitting an order, please be sure to fill in the correct "logistics method and tracking number" to avoid delivery delays due to abnormal logistics information;
